Dancing Hall Was Elaborately
Decorated With Flags.

A LONG LIST OF DANCERS

The Cadets in Full Uniform and the Girls in White, With American Beauty Roses Made a Beautiful Scene.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

LEXINGTON, VA., June 26.—The final ball at the Virginia Military Institute took place Wednesday evening in the cadet gymnasium, and was a brilliant affair. The dancing hall was elaborately decorated with flags, banniers, Japanese lanterns and umbrellas. The central place was a large altar, from which long streamers radiated. The chaperones' alcove was a bower of roses.

Promptly at 11 o'clock the dancers entered the hall in two lines, led by the two presidents, Cadets Bisco and Dawley. The young ladies, looking charming in their beautiful gowns, they all carried bouquets of magnificent American Beauty roses. The cadets were dressed in white trousers, gray coats, red sashes, caps with plumes, and long streamers of white ribbon. They carried their swords. The opening figures consisted of beautiful marches and intricate evolutions, all of a military character. Some parts were exceedingly spectacular. The ball was given by the second class in honor of the first class, and one of the formations made by the couples was the figures '94 to '98, and concluded with the letters 'V. M. I.'

Dancing was kept up until 5 o'clock the next morning. A sumptuous supper was served at 2 o'clock.
